

I live in New Jersey and I am adamantly opposed to any FCC ruling that would weaken New Jersey's current "do-not-call list" law. I believe this FCC proposal seeks to permit businesses to solicit anyone they have previously done business with in the prior 18 months, while New Jersey law has no such exemption. I wish for New Jersey law to be kept intact and do not want any federal interference with my right to privacy and freedom from solicitation, telemarketing or otherwise. Thank you.
